

The Black Community's Technology News and Information Source
Now reaching 120,000 readers in the U.S., U.K., Caribbean, and Africa.

US Black Engineer Magazine

Automotive News

Campus Link

Career Edge

Commentary

Community News

Cybertainment

Diversity Watch

Education

Jobs

People

Plugged-In

Publisher's Bookshelf

Special Reports

Tech News

Career

Listen to our PODCAST
Just click the Pod icon

Quick search

Type search term(s) for articles, places or events, then hit enter

Articles older than two issues are available in our archives back to 1990.

(free search and retrieval)

Search

Diversity Watch

NASCAR Stays On Track With Diversity Initiatives

Email this article
Printer friendly page

By USBE Online Staff
Aug 15, 2005, 08:43

A newly-developed supplier diversity and minority vendor program, one of several 2005 diversity initiatives being promoted by NASCAR, the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, is off to a great start.

Vendor announcements with African American-owned Atlanta International Consulting Group (AICG); Martinlintho; and Touch point, Inc. were released last week.

The supplier diversity program, a part of NASCAR's drive to make the motor sport industry look more like America, is actively inviting women and minority-owned businesses to be considered as subcontractors and suppliers for all goods and services purchased at NASCAR.

NASCAR is a member of the National Minority Supplier Development Council and is working with the Florida Minority Supplier Development Council to further develop the program.

This fall, NASCAR and The Coca-Cola Company will be visiting historically Black colleges and universities to build awareness about career opportunities in motor sports.

© Copyright 2004 by Career Communications Group, Inc.

Top of Page

Member Login

Welcome Senka